Agency Case # 79-14877

On 03/24/1979, Dorothy Mae Davison was found unconscious in the storage room of the Git-N-Go Market in Springfield, MO, where she had been working as a cashier. Davison had suffered multiple stab wounds to the head, neck and chest. The victim later succumbed to her injuries. A sketch was completed on the alleged suspect which described him as a 20-year-old white male, between 5'8"- 5'10," 150-160 lbs., wearing blue jeans, a dark colored western shirt, and a copper belt buckle (one solid piece) with "Thunderbird" in turquoise, and copper lines/veins within the buckle. Investigators are attempting to identify anyone who has information on the homicide. If you have any information, please contact the Springfield Police Department.
